

A FRIEND IN NEED A FRIEND INDEED

Writes Mrs. Hardee Regarding
Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable
Compound

Los Angeles, Calif.—"I must tell you that I am a true friend to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I have taken it off and on for twenty years and it has helped me change from a delicate girl to a stout, healthy woman. When I was married I was sick all the time until I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I was in bed much of my time with pains and had to have the doctor every month. One day I found a little book in my yard in Guthrie, Oklahoma, and I read it through and got the medicine—Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound—and took eight bottles and used the Sanative Wash. I at once began to get stronger. I have got many women to take it just by telling them what it has done for me. I have a young sister whom it has helped in the same way it helped me. I want you to know that I am a 'friend indeed,' for you were a friend in need."

—Mrs. GEORGE HARDEE, 1043 Byram St., Los Angeles, California.

Let Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound be a "friend indeed" to you.

Through Various Grades. Freda, a neighbor of ours, called in to see me one morning, wearing a red sweater, which was rather large. I said to her, "Freda, does not that sweater belong to your big sister?" She evidently did not have the word "shrink" in her vocabulary, for she answered, "It used to belong to sister, but every time mamma washes it it grows younger and younger until now it fits me."—Chicago Tribune.

Paris Approves Tailored Suits

Outfit Retains Its Simplicity, but Has Lost Severity, Authority Asserts.

The smartly dressed Parisienne is faithful to her recent love—the tailored suit, declares a Paris correspondent of the New York Tribune. Last spring there was an amazing vogue for the mannish tailored suit. It was astonishing to see this type of dress become such a craze with French women, for they never have been advocates of the severe outdoor costume beloved by the women of England and America. So great was the craze for the gray tailored suit in Paris last spring that it became almost a uniform.

Now a new element has entered into the suit—a feminine element—and while the suit retains its simplicity it has lost its severity. Jackets have become vague in outline and with true coquetry the Parisienne often wears a picturesque veil-trimmed hat with these tailored suits.

Russian blouse styles are very successful. There is a youthfulness to suits having this outline that no woman can afford to overlook unless she be very young indeed.

Basques With Russian Blouse Suits. Jenny, always noted for her youthful models, is having remarkable success with her Russian blouse suits, trimmed with fur and worn with tunic blouses of matching color which are

What appears to be a band of embroidery around the skirt is really the edge of the tunic blouse. This blouse is such a usable model not only when worn with this suit—which, minus the fur, will make one of the best designs for the spring season—but as a separate blouse.

One of Jean Patou's best liked Russian blouse styles is in his new color, a soft sage green. This maker's preference for green is so marked that he is using lamb's wool dyed in this shade as a trimming for many of his smartest Russian blouse suits.

Velours Model of Indefinite Outline. Color is becoming a factor with various clever dressmakers as a means of setting their own particular seal on their models. The Madeleine blue, affected by Madeleine de Madeleine in the autumn, has become widely known. These makers have announced their intention of bringing out a new shade each season and giving it prominence throughout their line.

For the mid-season they are featuring a suit, known as Certaintement, developed in this shade of blue broad cloth. It is trimmed with gray Australian opossum fur, the fur forming not only the big collar and cuffs but wide, floating panels at the sides of the jacket.

Cheruit makes a beautiful model in brown velours de laine with a loose jacket having the indefinite outline so greatly desired in tailored suits showing the latest developments in fashion. The coat is cut several inches shorter in the front than at the back or the sides. The skirt also shows the lift or front drapey so characteristic of Cheruit's new models.

With this suit is worn a Lanvin hat which is often seen at afternoon teas. It is of maroon colored crepe Moroccan trimmed with rose-colored tulle flowers and an embroidered tulle veil.

Girdles That Harmonize With Cloths. Striped woollens in beige and brown are used by Cheruit with great success for the development of tailored suits. One of her best numbers has a straight little coat with the shawl collar draped so as to form a hood. Another new feature is the large and unique braid ornaments which trim the front of the jacket. The skirt is straight and laps half way around the figure, closing at the left side.

With the suit is one of Madame Gorge's newest quilt-trimmed toques. There is just now a big craze for toques fairly bristling with small wings and feathers.

The well-dressed woman is giving more and more time to the selection of her hats. She spends as much time in choosing her hat or her handbag as she does in buying her costume.

Many of the new spring suits will have metal or composition girdles designed to match the cloth from which they are made. This will be especially true of the suits of the new Rodier fabrics, the girls harmonizing with the patterns and the colorings in the cloth. This is a very new idea and one which will be extensively featured in spring models.

An amazing number of wide-skirted dresses have made their appearance in the last few weeks. Earlier in the season this type of dress was seen to a considerable extent, but it did not play a major role, as it does now. So rapid has been its growth that it seems as though a changed silhouette had sprung up overnight.

The theater always has a great bearing on dress. The clothes seen on the stage reflect the mode and have a greater influence on costume than the casual observer realizes. Both the Paris and American stages are now featuring the full-skirted dress, and it is to these sources that we may attribute its renaissance.

Deep Pointed Scallops

Designers permit great latitude in the outline of these bouffant skirts, and it is interesting to observe the different versions and interpretations of this mode. It makes little difference whether the hoop or extended portion of the skirt be at the hem line, at the half way mark or at the hips. Each dressmaker has a slightly different interpretation.

A typical version is a model with deep pointed scallops at the hem. The points sweep the ground, while the cut-away portion is so extreme that a short effect is ingeniously produced. This frock is seen on the American stage developed in rose-colored tulle. The tight-fitting bodice, which is sleeveless, is cut in scalloped form at the waist line and is topped by a bertha which serves in place of sleeves. Garlands in rose silk and gold cloth peep from beneath the bodice and trail down one side of the dress.

Many are the fabrics that lend themselves to hooped styles. Tulle and faille are always in vogue when the full silhouette is exploited. Metal laces and nets are used singly or in combination over foundation skirts of silver cloth.

Ribbons add immeasurably to the attractiveness of the full-skirted model. A frock worn by a noted French actress in a recent continental production consists of a silver cloth foundation, the skirt of which is entirely covered with silver ribbon loops, while the bodice is resplendent with steel bands.

Japanese Silks

Japanese silks are prominent in infants' supplies. There are exquisite Japanese silk "bunting" all carefully quilted and there are crib covers and carriage robes. Charming little sacques and quilted or embroidered kimonos with frog fastenings, just like mother's, are prominent, but quite the latest addition in this department are the little Japanese shoes made up of crepe de chine in pink, white or blue with lacings like a real oxford. These will appeal to mothers who are looking for something new.

DESSERTS FOR A WEEK

Even a plain rice pudding, wholesome and good as it is, may be made a work of art by proper garnishing.

Vanilla Rice Pudding.—Pour three cups of water over one-half cup of rice, heat to the boiling point and boil five minutes, stirring constantly with a fork. Drain, add two cups of cold water, one-half teaspoonful of salt and cook until the rice is soft. Scald one and one-half cups of milk in a double boiler; mix three tablespoonfuls of cornstarch and one-fourth teaspoonful of salt with one-half cup of cold milk, stir until smooth and add to the scalded milk, stirring constantly; cook and stir until the mixture is thick; cover and cook ten minutes. Beat the yolks of two eggs until light, add one and one-fourth teaspoonfuls of vanilla, turn into a fancy dish and chill. When ready to serve, garnish with whipped cream roses with a bit of bright-colored jelly in the center of each. Press the cream through a pastry bag or a small paper cone.

Yankee Plum Pudding.—Take one cupful of finely-chopped suet, add one cupful of New Orleans molasses, sift three cupfuls of flour with one and one-half teaspoonfuls of soda, one teaspoonful of cinnamon, one-half teaspoonful each of cloves, nutmeg and salt; add alternately with one cupful of sweet milk, reserving some of the flour to dredge one cupful of raisins and one cupful of walnut meats broken in bits, mix well and turn into a buttered mold and steam three hours. Serve with an egg sauce. Beat two eggs, add one-half cupful of sugar and when dissolved, add one-half cupful of hot milk and a teaspoonful of grated lemon rind.

Queen of Puddings.—Cut one cupful of toasted bread into one-half-inch cubes, beat the yolks of three eggs and the white of one until thick. Add one-half cupful of sugar, one teaspoonful of vanilla and two cupfuls of milk. Pour over the bread and bake in a moderate oven, then cover with one cupful of stewed, unsweetened apple and cover with a meringue, using the other whites. Bake until brown.

"Soon as the evening shades prevail, The moon takes up the wondrous tale And nightly to the listening earth Repeats the story of her birth."

SEASONABLE DESSERTS

A pile of any variety except mince is in season all the year, for pie seems to be the great American dessert.

Chocolate Cream Pie.—Melt two squares of chocolate, add one-half cupful of sugar, four teaspoonfuls of cornstarch, one-fourth of a teaspoonful of salt, the yolks of three eggs slightly beaten and two cupfuls of milk, stirring constantly; add one tablespoonful of vanilla and turn into a buttered pastry shell. Spread with a meringue and brown in the oven.

Cranberry Pie.—Cream five tablespoonfuls of butter with one-half cupful of brown sugar, and one well-beaten egg and one cupful of flour. Chill and roll out into three rounds and bake. Cook cranberries with three tablespoonfuls of cake crumbs, sugar and water until thick. Cool and spread between the layers. Cover with whipped cream and serve in wedge-shaped pieces.

Buttered Bread and Raisin Pudding.—Butter slices of bread, removing the crusts; to fill a three-pint baking dish. Arrange in the dish, buttered side down. Sprinkle a thin layer of shredded, seeded raisins between the layers. Cover with four cupfuls of milk to which three slightly beaten eggs have been added, one cupful of brown sugar, one-half teaspoonful of salt and the rind and juice of a lemon. Bake slowly two hours. Serve with a hard sauce.

Meat Croquettes.—Melt four tablespoonfuls of butter, add four tablespoonfuls of flour and mix well; cook with one teaspoonful of salt. Add one cupful of beef stock, one cupful of chopped meat, one tablespoonful of chopped onion, and two tablespoonfuls of chopped pimientos. Cool and shape, roll in egg and toasted crumbs and fry in deep fat.

Land Seized Under Gule of Science. The Cameroons and Togoland, which are now under the mandate of Great Britain by authority of the treaty of Versailles, were handed over to Emperor William I by a German professor whose ostensible interest in the black races was scientific.

Gustave Nachtigal (1824 to 1885) had made many exploring trips into Africa and brought back tales of commercial and other possibilities that strongly appealed to Bismarck. In 1884, the Iron Chancellor instructed Nachtigal to explore certain regions on behalf of the government, and when the scientist had arrived at his destination, a German officer who had accompanied him at the special direction of Bismarck, instructed him to plant the German flag on the roof of the hut of the greatest chief of the country and to declare the population subject to the scepter of the German kaiser.

MOTHER! OPEN

CHILD'S BOWELS WITH CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP

Your little one will love the "fruity" taste of "California Fig Syrup" even if constipated, bilious, irritable, feverish, or full of cold. A teaspoonful never fails to cleanse the liver and bowels. In a few hours you can see for yourself how thoroughly it works all the sour bile, and undigested food out of the bowels and you have a well, playful child again.

Millions of mothers keep "California Fig Syrup" handy. They know a teaspoonful today saves a sick child tomorrow. Ask your druggist for genuine "California Fig Syrup," which has directions for babies and children of all ages printed on bottle. Mother! You must say "California" or you may get an imitation fig syrup.—Advertisement.

Gives Deaf Partial Hearing.

A new development by which partly deaf persons may be made to hear, was shown recently at a meeting of the Faraday society. Kilbur Scott exhibited crystals of rochelle salt, made artificially, which possessed the remarkable power of reproducing sounds. Mr. Scott explained that deaf persons could wear a small crystal behind the ear, connected with a little soundbox worn over the chest. The sounds of conversation would then be transmitted to the ear-drum in the form of vibrations which would enable them to hear.

Shave With Cuticura Soap

And double your razor efficiency as well as promote skin purity, skin comfort and skin health. No mug, no slimy soap, no germs, no waste, no irritation even when shaved twice daily. One soap for all uses—shaving bathing and shampooing.—Advertisement.

Tactful.

"Why did he not accompany you to the theater, instead of sending tickets for yourself and mother?" "It was not the kind of show," answered Miss Cayenne, "which would permit a gentleman to feel at ease in the presence of ladies."

Heroic measures are several sizes too large for the average man.

Are You A Woman?

If You Are in Middle Life, You Cannot Afford to Overlook One Word of This.

Kansas City, Mo.—"I found Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription to be just what is claimed of it as a woman's medicine. During middle life I was all run-down, nervous and weak, could not eat nor sleep well; did not have a bit of strength, would be tired and worn-out all the time. I knew I must have medicine and finally decided to try Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and it was just the thing I needed as it brought me through in a good strong healthy condition. I always recommend it to my friends, many of whom have taken it with just as good results."—Mrs. Albert Leedom 3713 Garfield Ave.
